CHANGING TIMES

"Please, stop biting my arm!" yells Leon Yu to Jenny Meeds.

Giving a round of applause is Rodney Kidd.

"Oh, my gosh!" squeals Sonia Kimotsuki, as Jaime Britto and Noele Ghaith laugh.

"Here is what we'll do, guys," explain Yesenia Perez and Alicia Rodriguez to Jeni Frazier, Tanya Antle, Megan Navarro, Diana Escobedo, and Tina Cox.

AHEAD

Strolling happily along is Sherri Rose.

The Orange And Black Come Back!

It seemed the lazy days of summer had just set in, when the familiar bells of school began to ring once again. We asked several Washington students to tell us how they felt this school year would be like:

Jeff Peterson-"This school year will be a most interesting experience."

Dawn Brown-"All the cool people are graduating!"

Elaine Wong-"Good, because we're all united. We have something to look forward to this year, a new gym."

Stephanie Casey-"All the P.E. students will freeze to death."

Anita Bains-"Pretty good. There are a lot of hardworking students, as well as teachers doing their best."

"Can't we eat our lunch in peace!" exclaims Barbara DeSousa and Suzy Stovall.

"Come on, just try a little piece," persuades Bi Nah, as Melissa Wiegand, Chi-Chi Ko, and Tamara Banzett join in the fun.

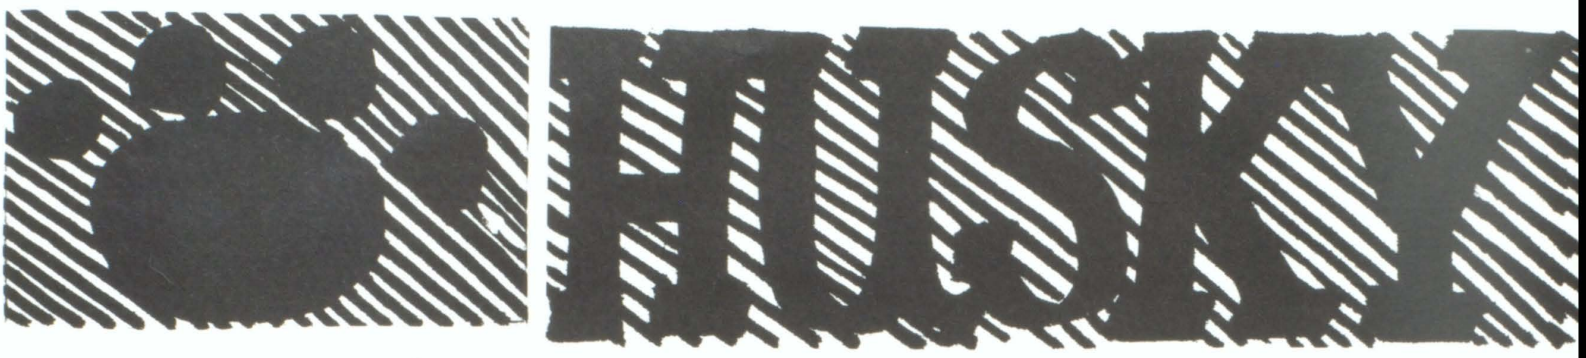
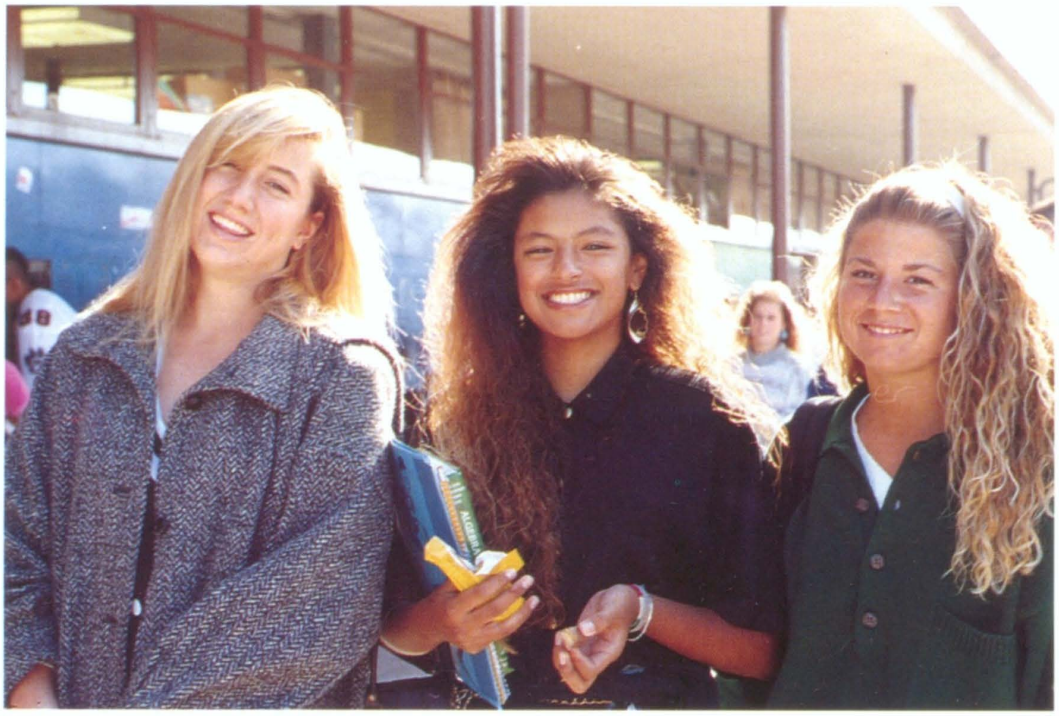
You take a pick.; "Ooh, look at that," says Brent DeWitt.; Ryan Baldino, Carrie Swenson, Stephanie Casey, Venetia Suchoski, Tony Gemignani, Scott Carter, Melissa Taylor, Carolyn Pestano, Luis Cuellar, and Maria Cuellar participate in the Hello Dance festivities.; Bryan Gebhardt not only displays mental feats of strength but physical feats as well.; Tracy Jackson, Lisa Olson, and Angela Burns pose pretty for the camera.; Noel Melanio is headed diligently for class.; Even Hank the Husky needs a break every now and then from all that cheering!

CANDIDS

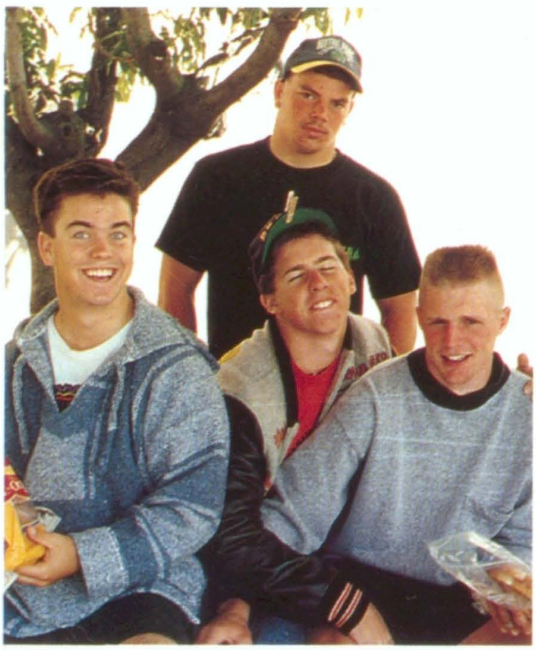




"Gosh, we just love school!" say Seniors Megan N., Diane E., and Krisey G.

Rod Pestano and Kathy Braia give us a big Smile.

Friends Arrin, Kim, Tanda, and Ann pose pretty.



"Hey I want to get in on the fun," pouts Eggy.

"What are you smiling at, Eric?" asks Aaron Shultz.

"Smile!" says Yalda to a fellow Husky.

FRIENDS

Introducing the 3 Musketeers, Seniors Denise, Toria, and Alicia.

A FRIEND

A friend is a person who's there for you, whether you, are happy or feeling down right blue.

A friend is someone you can confide in and trust. It is someone who listens to you when an understanding ear is a must.

A friend accepts you for you, both good and bad, it is someone who'll talk to you although you can make them quite mad.

A friend is able to be honest with you and tell you the truth, although it can sometimes hurt, but a friend still offers compassion and a shoulder to cry on until your smile comes back and gleams with a pert.

This is a friend.

"Seniors we are and Huskies we will always be," say Sonia, Venetia, Brandy, and Lauren.

"Hi, this is my friend Will Raby," says Sean Carmicheal.

SUMMER SAFARI

This year's return to Washington started out with a cool Summer Safari dance sponsored by the Senior class. Little did we know that it would be the last Hello dance in our beloved South Gym.

Everyone had many different reasons for coming to the dance. Seniors came to celebrate their last Hello dance of their high school years. Many came just to be with their friends and meet new friends. Many came to fill up a lonely Saturday evening. Many came with their dates, and most just came to celebrate their Washington Husky spirit.

Whatever reason people came, by the looks on the people's faces, everyone had an excellent time. Thanks class of Ninety-one.

ORDER PLEASE

Down comes the gavel. The meeting has now officially begun. The minutes from last week's meeting are read off and attendance is taken. Shortly afterwards, committee heads and the class officers report to the council whether it be old or new business. This year, one of the major issues deeming ASB was Spirit Week and how it was going to be handled due to the closing of the North Gym.

Although student council was faced with serious issues such as this one, ASB also had the time to plan and organize fun lunch rallies and games which helped bring the classes together as a whole.

ASSEMBLY

Rodney Kidd and Mark Stewart anticipate lunchtime.

Take Action!

What is Rep. Assembly? Each third period class elects a student to represent their class. All the reps and the A.S.B. vice-president meet every month to discuss A.S.B. activities. This provides a direct way for students to voice their opinions. Ideas from the reps and their classes are presented to student council. The reps also inform their third period classes of student council's actions.

Rep. Assembly is designed to create a chance for students to get more involved. This year, I would like Rep. Assembly to be a close group, which takes part in A.S.B. activities and makes a difference.

Mark Stewart
Rep. Assembly Prez

"What do you think about this?" inquires Lorrie Churma of Veronica Conroy.

Listening attentively are Wendy Gant and Heather Snyder.

"It's not that funny," think Ryan Baldino and Marwan Morrar, as Bill Koo laughs uncontrollably.

Athletic Reps.-Brandy Glock and Aaron Ingram

People who are interested in helping with the school should consider running for office or better yet, apply for an appointed office. It's a lot of hard work, being an appointed officer. One has a lot of responsibilities and commitments to keep. Despite all this, it is above all, fun, exciting, and very rewarding. One has nothing to lose and everything to gain.

ACADEMICS

100 Section

OPPORTUNITIES

Academics is defined as having to do with general education, especially the kind that prepares students who plan to go to college. It can be described in many words; adventure, ambition, anguish, averages, achievement, and awards.

Contrary to popular belief, High School is not just sports and activities. For some it is the preparatory stage for college and the "REAL WORLD". Washington is proud of its academic tradition which provides students with knowledge and confidence to face the future.

Besides the general education classes which teach us basic skills, such as, how to cancel out an algebraic equation, learning the characteristics of a mole, or interpreting a line from Shakespeare, Washington offers a variety of elective classes. You can enroll in anything from Choir to Family Living, and the in the process learn about yourself and what interests you or what you would like to do for a living. If you have trouble, we have extremely helpful counselors to provide you with guidance and possible research centers.

The teachers at Washington are dedicated to the success of their students. They often sacrifice lunchtime or days after school to make sure each and every one of their students understands the material in which they are teaching to them. By taking these opportunities not only do we improve our knowledge and grades, but we get to know our teachers as friends also.

The Administration at Washington builds confidence also because the students see a caring smile in all of their faces and this gives a calm, productive, learning atmosphere.

But the most important part of Washington is definitely the intelligent and motivated student body that we have at this school. We know that it is our dedication to academic excellence that makes Washington High School one of the best in the MVAL.

Since 1892, new faces, courses, and buildings have come into the scene at Washington. For one hundred years, these halls have reflected the feelings of ambition and determination from those students who have taken from it education, and given it their loyalty and pride.

Pride and devotion should be felt by every student throughout this school, through his feelings and his own accomplishments.

Education is a stream of possibilities and knowledge, which flows unceasingly from the classes of Washington High School.

Take these possibilities and build them into whatever you may dream of. If you take every advantage you can in High School you are bound to learn something.

Education is the most important thing in a persons life so take every opportunity that may come your way to expand and grow, you will be thankful in the end.

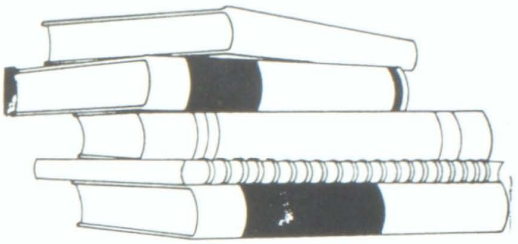
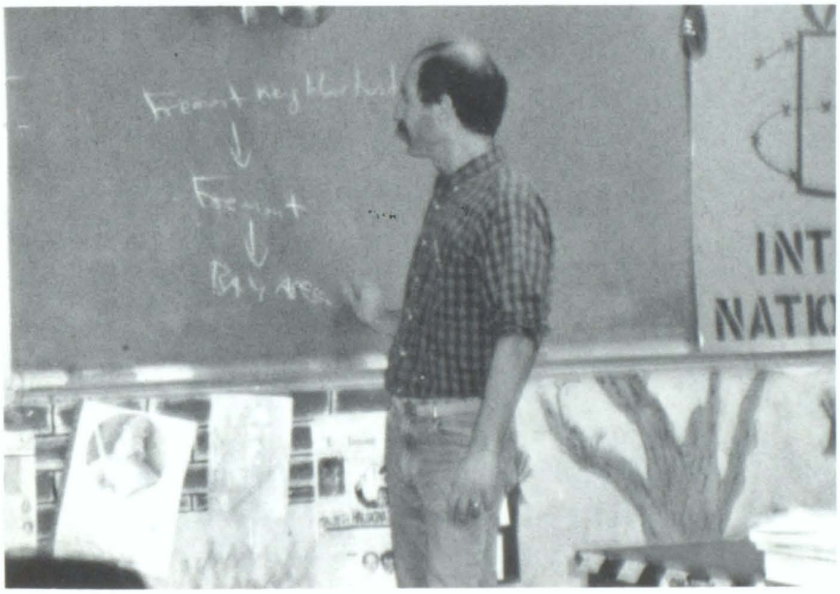
Come on girls, smile! The guys don't seem to think English is so boring!



When we sign up for classes each year we have many choices, except when it comes to English. English is one course we must take all four years. Each year we are introduced to new writers, vocabulary, and projects. We often wonder why we have to read the works of Homer and Shakespeare since they lived so long ago. Why can't we be content with our Stephen King and Danielle Steele books? We may not like reading some of the books or doing some of the many essays, but we know they can't be avoided. What we learn in our English classes will last us a lifetime, and our English skills are used in all aspects of our lives.



As Mr. Perlman writes on the board he contemplates the meaning of life.

Farhad Ghoddousi loves his English class so much all he can do is smile.

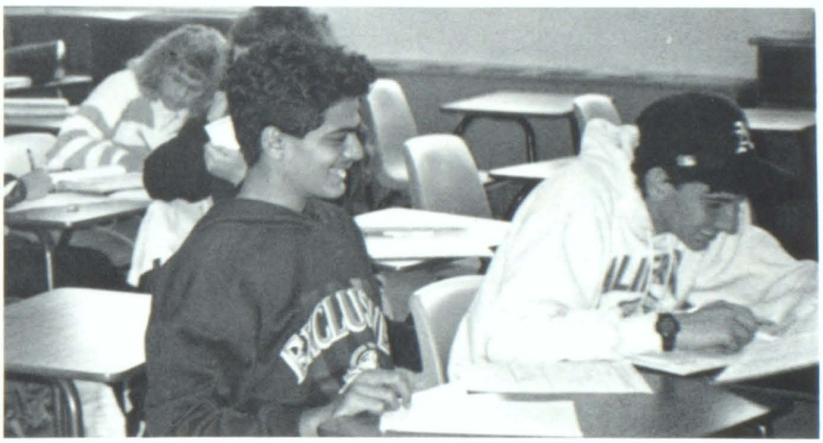
Have you ever wondered how to say "How are you?" in Spanish, or what "Comment-allez vous?" really means? Well you can find answers to these questions and a lot more in the French, German, and Spanish classes taught at Washington. Students learn about the culture as well as the language of the various countries. Taking a foreign language is an admissions requirement for numerous colleges and universities. Besides you never know but your skills in a foreign language may come in handy in the future.



"Ha! I told you I would find the answer," laughs Gary Rauscher as Rakesh Mehta watches his friend do the activity.

Physical Education is a class where you can have fun but you must participate in order to achieve a good grade. The Washington Athletic department dedicates alot of time and hard work into giving their students the best education possible. Many sports were lost this year due to closing of the North gym but students and staff managed to pull together through the hard times. The sports offered this year varied from football to weight training. The advantage to taking physical education is not only getting a good health education but you meet many new friends.

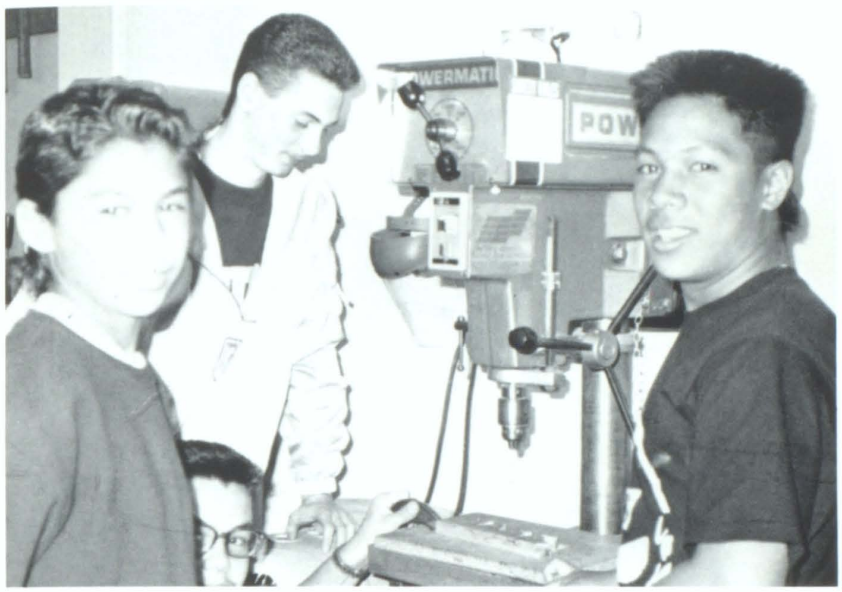
Industrial Arts is a useful and fun class to take. You learn a lot of things which are more useful than just in school. Mr. Wheeler will teach you about your own car. The things you learn in this class, you will be able to use it the rest of your life. Mr. Soma teaches Industrial Art classes such as wood and metal shop and drafting. In these classes, you are able to use a lot of your imagination. After a couple of classes, who knows, you might be able to construct your own dream house.



Ardie Marin, Gregory Smith, Mark Maes, and Andrew Laureta try to show off by pretending to fix the broken drill press.

HOME ECONOMICS

Jenny Rivera, Alisa Lorenzi, Holly Skinner, and Katie Frazier wait anxiously for their food to be done.

Students are always faced with the problem of choosing an elective that they will truly enjoy. The students at Washington High School have always chosen art and home economics as one of their favorite classes.

In the art courses, students will explore various media used in drawing, painting, sculpting, printmaking, and several other art forms. Mr. French and Mrs. Tomlinson do an excellent job of teaching the basics of design and composition. This includes space, line, shape, form, and texture. They also learn the different uses of color by creating a color wheel.

Students are also given the chance to be exposed to a wide variety of foods through the home economics/foods classes. This course emphasizes measuring, nutritional science and table service. The students also are taught how to cook simple meals. Home economics also teaches the students money management, organization and care of the kitchen. Students learn skills that are very useful in their own home.

BAND

Band is just like any other sport at Washington High School, except it doesn't require as much running or sit-ups. Being in the band does require a great amount of concentration, rhythm, and commitment. The band practices many long hours, often on their own time . . . including lunch. This is especially common when a concert is nearing. The band consists of drums, guitars, flutes, clarinets, saxs, and more! You have to be pretty good to keep up with that. Mr. Mitchell is proud of his band, and for a good reason. Our band is a special tradition at Washington High School, and we should all be proud of their special talents!

CHOIR

The 1990-1991 Washington High School Choir

To be in Choir, you not only need a great voice, but also a good attitude to do your best. In this class, everyone counts and every singer is important to the group. The choir practices hard to get themselves and their voices ready for their concerts. Although choir requires many hours of work, the benefits are well worth it because practice makes perfect! Even though a good voice is the best way to get involved in Choir, it is not a requirement. All you need is to enjoy singing and by listening to our Choir, you can tell that they do!

YEARBOOK

To everyone else, yearbook may seem like a fun class. That's true, but it's also a very stressful one. Everyone scrambles to get the right equipment in order to complete the seemingly endless task of their layouts. Photographers are seen scurrying around campus snapping hurried last minute pictures, while other staff members try their best to put their layout together. Much of the work is taken on by the editors, and the stress factor follows them as well. Much time, patience, and meticulous thought is needed to create the yearbook, and when it is finally done, all of the stress if forgotten-what remains is a feeling of great accomplishment.

The staff of Washington's student body newspaper, The Hatchet, has a difficult job. Finding interesting topics is a difficult thing to do. All must be done by a set deadline. Fortunately, there has been much to write about this year, both world and campus news. From the invasion of Kuwait to the tearing down of both the North and South gyms, from sporting events to drama events, the Hatchet staff does its best to inform the students of Washington of anything that they want or need to know about. The staff of The Hatchet has faithfully carried out its purpose- to provide a newspaper that meets the students' needs- providing meaningful information from on and off campus.

ACTIVITIES

A 100 Section

EXCITEMENT

Although the general purpose of school is to get an education, activities provide another side to school that is more enjoyable for students. Activities give students the opportunity to socialize and make new friends, while having a fun time at a school event. At Washington, we have many activities that you can be a part of.

First of all, there is Spirit Week, which gets everyone motivated to be a part of the school, and strengthens our ever-strong Husky Spirit to make Washington the terrific school that it is! During Spirit Week, a skit is performed by each class along with dress-up days to show just how much spirit each class has. This eventful week is topped off with the Homecoming Dance and Game.

Dances are another type of activity enjoyed by Washington students. There is the Hello Dance in September which gives all students the opportunity to meet new friends while renewing old friendships. Also, the Hello Dance is a great activity for freshmen and other new students to go to because they can feel more comfortable around their fellow Huskies!

The Homecoming Dance is also a big dance at Washington because everyone feels a sense of unity since it is the end of Spirit Week. There are also many graduates from the year before that come to the dance to enjoy the Homecoming activities. The 1990 Homecoming Dance was the last dance to be held in the South Gym before it closed.

In December is the Winter Ball. The Winter Ball is the only semi-formal dance at Washington that all students can attend. This year, the Winter Ball was sponsored by the Class of 1993. Due to the closing of both the North and South Gyms, this year's Winter Ball was held at the Veterans Hall in Niles.

Other important dances at Washington include the traditional Sadie Hawkins Dance in March, the Junior Prom in May and the Senior Ball in June.

For those students who prefer spontaneous activities, there are lunchtime activities. These activities are often unknown to the participants until the very last minute. Lunchtime activities always turn out to be fun events, not only for those participants, but also for spectators. However, lunch time activities are not limited to spontaneous events. There are other events, such as the annual costume contest at Halloween, that allow students to display their creativity.

Student participation is what makes school activities fun, interesting and exciting! The success or failure depends on you, the students, so don't just sit there. GET INVOLVED!! That's what HUSKY SPIRIT is all about!

Lasting Impressions

Carolyn has dedicated many hours of hard work to Washington during her past four years here. She was the Public Relations Representative her Sophomore year, as well as our ILC Representative her Junior year. During this past year, Carolyn has done a terrific job as ASB Treasurer. Carolyn has also been a member of CSF since her Sophomore year. She has been a great asset to Washington High School. Thanks, Carolyn, for all your hard work!!!

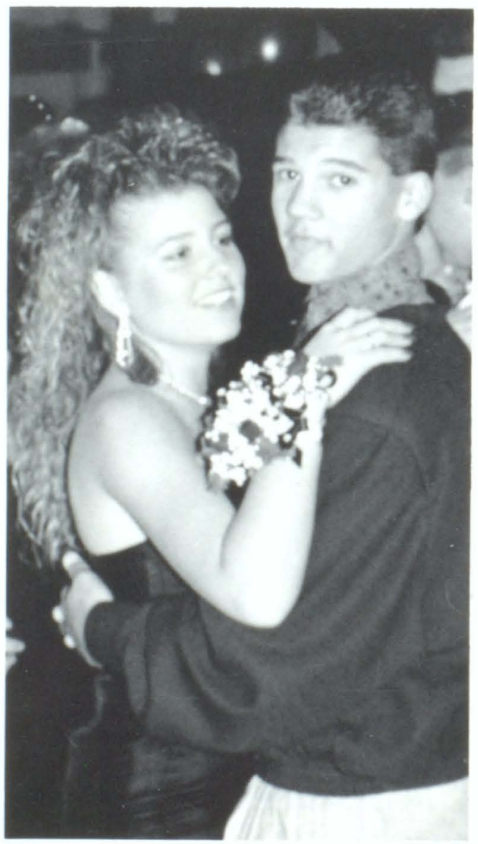
Ken has also participated in cross country and wrestling, as well as being our mascot his Junior year. Thanks, Ken, for everything you do to make Washington the great school that it is!!!

WINTER BALL

All of the students are enjoying themselves with their friends on this special and memorable evening, the winter ball.

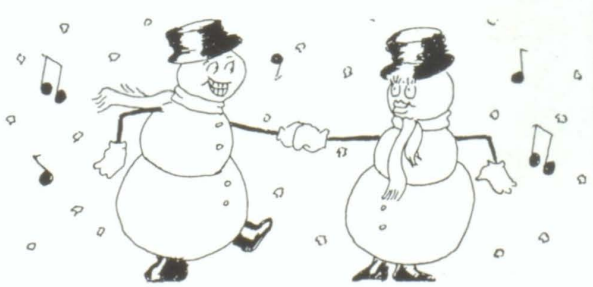
One of the biggest dances of the school year is the winter ball. It's one of the very few formal dances to which everyone looks forward to. There are so many time consuming preparations and decisions to be made before the dance begins . . . but that's the fun of it! After all of the arrangements are made, such as "What to wear?, Who will ask me?, Where are we going for dinner?, Where can I get my money?", the only thing left is to just count the days for the moment you've been waiting for, Washington High's Winter Ball. This dance is one of the most memorable highlights of your high school days.

This year the winter ball was held on December 21 at the Veterans Hall in Niles. Despite the fact that we didn't have our school gym to hold the dance in this year, the outcome proved to be a great success. The sophomore class sponsored this dance and did a great job with the organization.



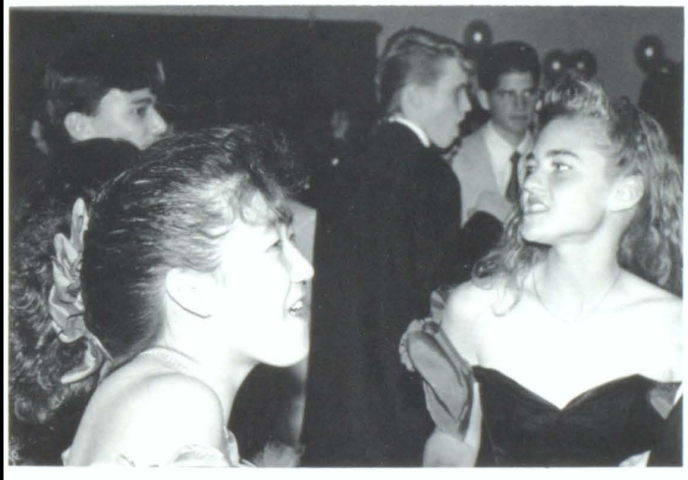
"Aren't we cute?" says Tommy Lund.

Jackie Hicks puts on a big, bright smile as she enjoys herself wit her date.



"This is one of the most memorable nights of my life."

"Did I leave my keys in the car?" asks Tony Chae to Mike Kean. "C'mon guys, I'm ready to dance!" says Todd Hutchinson, an alumni at Washington.

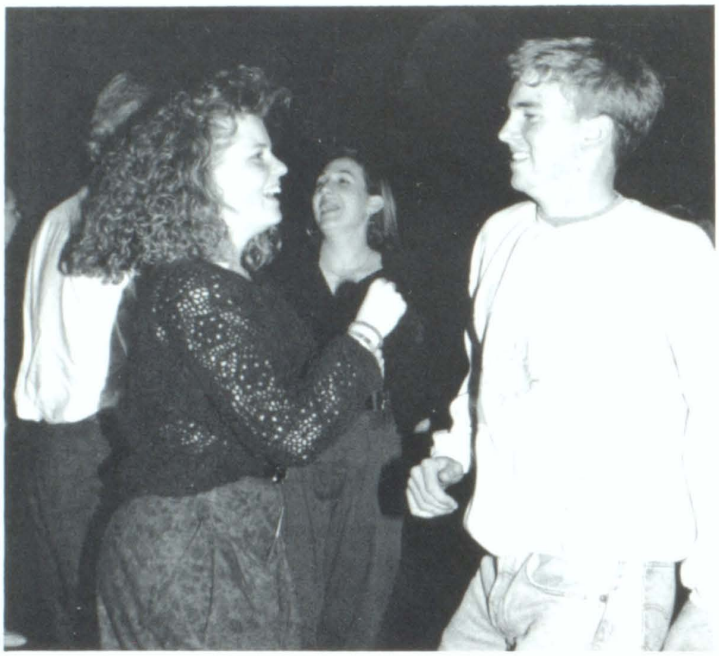


"Great music!" says T. Wong and A. Coutee.

Getting ready to pose for a candid are J. Hall, G. Hartkamp, K. Frazier, N. Gaith, J. Clifton, R. Bueno and E. Matallana.

Enjoying the evening are friends, Ellie Cain and Jennifer Leonhart.

VALENTINE'S



"Hey your a pretty good dancer" says Erin T. to John G.

"Come and take a picture with us" says Senior Tanya A.

Jennifer B., Trayce J., Angelique W., Dave M., Kelly S., Katie H., Lisa O., John T., Angela B., and David L., give the camera a big smile.

DANCE

"Look at that cute guy over there" says Kelly R. to Talieh S.

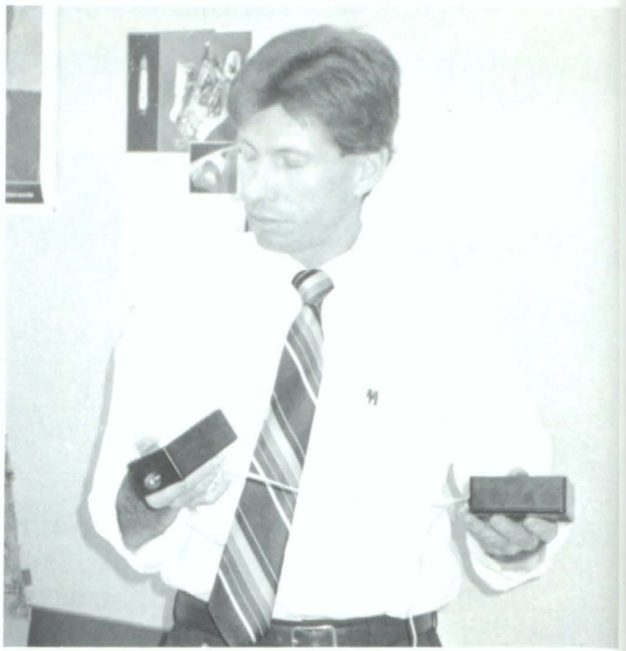
"You're my sweetheart" says Valerie S. to her beau.

"So are you having fun?" asks Theresa O. to Toria C.

Vanessa M. gazes deeply into her sweetheart's eyes.

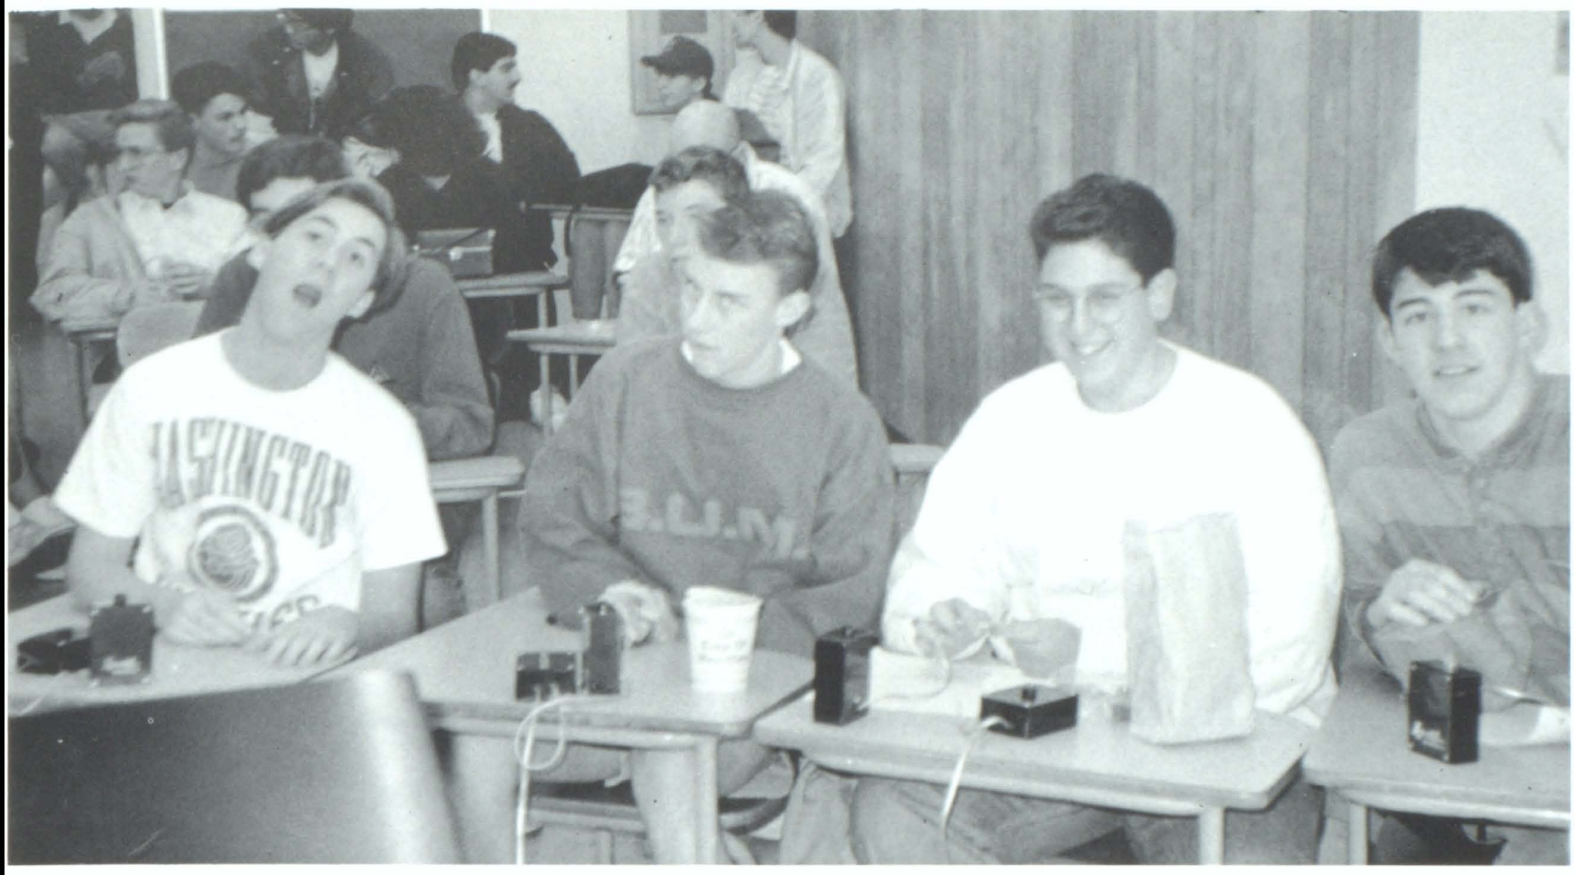
BRAIN BOWL

Roselle Ponsaran, Jason Lowe, Brian Provenzale and Jeremy Littau pose for the camera with great excitement.



Mr. Miller, with his eyes closed, is trying to guess which one works.

Confused George Kralovansky, intellect Brian McFeely, sleepy Peter Orsi and invisible David McFeely all ponder over the question, "How high is the Demon?"



Michael Winterstein, Scott McNamara, Jason Ramos and Bryan Gebhardt, the champion team, flaunt their superiority to the camera.

Ashish Kurani, Darren Alt and Chris Nokleberg vegetate before their important match.

Brainbowl, in it's fifth year, was, as usual, exciting as the brains of the school battle it out. About 20 teams with four on each team constricted Brainbowl. Team names ranged from Hot Buttered Elves to Plantinum Platypi. Each name having it's own meaning and laughs. Brainbowl lasted about 2 weeks with Mr. Miller in charge of the whole event. After two weeks of every kind of question being asked, Flight of the Nymphets came out as champions. Michael Winterstein, Scott McNamara, Jason Ramos and Bryan Gebhardt were on the winning team. After the champion match, an all-star match was made with four teams with four people on each team. The excitement wasn't over yet with an whole week of all-star matches going on. Finally Brainbowl came to an end at Washington High. Washington High then sent six top players to represent Washington at the championship games.

Brad Shimizu screams, "I know the answer, 1 + 1 = 2".

Actress Amy Windes seems to have stagefright and everyone else doesn't know what to do.

Laurie Forbes tries to get the jury under control as Mike Fauver goes to get some fresh air.

Steve Lipman feels the agony of defeat as the jury leaves after making the decisions against his feelings.

Being part of a drama production requires as much hard work and dedication as any other extracurricular activity. After the lines are memorized, then there is a lot of practicing to look forward to. The first production by the drama department this year was "Twelve Angry People." It showed how twelve jurors went from voting 11 to 1 guilty to all agreeing that a murder suspect was not guilty. Other productions this year were "Barefoot in the Park" and a variety show.

"Is that an insect?" asks Amy Fitch to Amy Little

ORGANIZATIONS

Section 100

INVOLVEMENT

Many clubs exist on Washington High's campus. These clubs serve their individual purposes to any Washington student that expresses interest. Our clubs participate in many different activities, ranging from the education of human rights to fighting off fire-breathing dragons in the role-playing world of Dungeons and Dragons.

Students that have a particular interest in world cultures are welcomed to join any of our four clubs that deal specifically in those areas. The German, French, Spanish, and International Clubs bring students of ethnic diversity into a big melting pot of culture. These clubs may attend carnivals or foreign plays to gain awareness of world cultures. These clubs are open to anybody on campus who find interest in the exotic traditions of foreign cultures.

Ski fanatics can look forward to our Ski Club. Powder addicts can come out and take a nice relaxing trip up to the snow. Unfortunately, this year, the ski season didn't appear to turn out to well, and many of our trips were either postponed or cancelled altogether. This club is a definite must for anyone really into shredding the slopes.

Close-Up is our program that takes an annual trip to our nations capital. Students that attend the trip get to meet important politicians that help run our country. Seminars and workshops are held to help our students get a better understanding on how our government works.

Huskies don't have to travel far to find a club they enjoy. There are plenty of things to do right here on campus. Students may join CSF (California Scholarship Federation), a club for students with exceptional academic achievement. Amnesty International helps educate the club members on human rights and is even working on freeing political prisoners of conscience.

Come out and see for yourself. Find what clubs look interesting to you. Don't deprive yourself of the many opportunities that they may offer.

You don't have anything to lose by examining our clubs. Besides, its a great way to meet new friends. Who knows, maybe the knowledge you attain will ultimately change your life. Clubs have been a long time tradition at Washington. They wouldn't have lasted all these years if they didn't provide something important for their members. Look into the clubs. It will be to your advantage.

All For One

C.S.F.

The California Scholarship Federation is an honors society which consists of many hard-working and intelligent students. The members of CSF must hold a certain grade point average. Each of these members often look forward to taking special fieldtrips to San Francisco, Berkeley, or Santa Cruz. Along with fieldtrips, these students also enjoy using their CSF cards, which enables them to go to the library during class period. Last year, during the holidays, CSF members dedicated their help in sponsoring the canned food drive for the needies. However, this school, year, the Interact club volunteered to sponsor this special event instead. The Interact club is a first year organization affiliated with the Niles Rotary. Interact Club is Basically a club in which members dedicate their services in helping others. Every year four projects are assigned that deal with environment, community, international or school services.

Are you interested in learning about new and exotic places from your own high school? If so, then the French Club is for you! The French Club is designed to help students understand more about the French culture and be able to have some first hand experience learning about their traditions. The best part is that you don't even have to know how to speak French or be taking a French class. If the French culture intrigues you, then just check it out and see how you like it. TRAGOS COMOS

Tragos Comos means "Tragedy Comedy" in Latin. This club offers an opportunity to learn a little more about the theater. It gives you an exciting opportunity to view plays by Shakespeare and other famous writers. The club brings you closer to the world of acting. If the world of theater makes you wonder, then take this chance to have a closer and better look at the Tragos Comos club. You are sure to find it exciting and enthralling.

The International Clubs main purpose is to increase understanding of foreign cultures. It doesn't focus on any main culture, but instead it branches out to all of the different traditions in the world. One interesting way of finding out about new cultures is exploring the different tastes of all the different foods. This is the favorite way to learn about all of the traditions. If you think it would be exciting to learn about many new ways of life, then try the International Club . . . you'll find it to be as exciting as it sounds.

CLOSE-UP

Close-Up is a program designed to allow students from all over the United States to learn about how our democratic system of government is operated. The students spend a whole week at our national capitol in Washington D.C. where they stay in a hotel and share rooms with students from different states. Part of the program takes the students to Williamburg, Virginia where they compare the colonial government of long ago to our present system of democracy. Workshops and seminars fill the week with much learning and discussion among the students. Students were able to observe our government at work and are also able to meet our congressman and many other politicians. If any of this interests you, you may want to consider close-up as a part of your list of activities for next year.

Jason Chen is busy writing a letter for Amnesty International.

Amnesty International is an organization whose members work hard to free various political prisoners throughout the world. The goal of Amnesty International is to free these prisoners and they reach towards achieving this goal by writing letters to countries where political prisoners are being held. This brings up the question, "What are a few letters going to do to help, anyway?" Well the answer to this often asked question is quite simple- a lot. The group we have here at Washington high school is only an extremely small portion of the many members of Amnesty International all over the world. The letters written by our school's club combined with those from all over the world, add up to an extremely large number. You would be surprised at the huge number of success stories.

DEBATE CLUB

This year WHS has a new club in which the students can fight with words. What could it be? Yes, It is none other than the debate club. The club seems very interesting because of the topics they discuss. For the first time around it has brought many new members. Hopefully the club stays as full and exciting. Good luck . . .

SPORTS 100 Section

DOMINANCE

So many Washington High School students experience the thrill and the challenge of sports. We prove again and again to be a challenge to other schools at M.V.A.L.'s.

Those involved in sports know the many sides to each situation. Athletes have learned well the agony of defeat and the joy of victory. Through the pain and repetition each day, students learn the fulfillment of exerting themselves. Athletes experience anxiety and butterflies at each meet or game, which causes stress that they have to learn to deal with. To participate in sports, you not only need skill, but brains as well. In order to play, a certain G.P.A. must be obtained. When the sports come around, it's a time to improve your personal record and always strive to be the best. Setting and reaching your goals is the key to being successful in sports and your studies.

Washington High School offers a wide variety of sports, ranging from football to badminton. They are different sports games or meets. Cheering sections are essential in boosting the spirits and morale of the players. That's where the whole school gets involved.

Washington's sports represent our school and the pride that we share. Not only is it obvious that we show great pride in our school, but in our teammates and each other. Our athletes represent a unique kind of school and togetherness. The attitude that they reflect is what we are.

Washington High School truly has Husky Spirit and strength. We represent 100 years of proving ourselves worthy of the name HUSKIES1

Some of the many sports featured at Washington High School are Football, Basketball, Baseball, Softball, Wrestling, Swimming, Soccer, Tennis, Golf, Badminton, Cross Country, Water Polo, Gymnastics, Track and Field, Cheerleading, Volleyball, and many others. We stand out among all of the other schools for our outstanding sportsmanship and ability to keep our name undefeatable. All you have to do is watch one game and determine that Washington High School is proud to be who they are and they have no fear. We will always be the victor whether or not we win or lose. We dominate.

Its also important to know that sports are more a part of high school memories than just winning and victory. Its the spirit felt at a game and the pride felt at the end of the game when the team unites together to be one and remind themselves that winning isn't everything. We do suffer some losses, but we take them in and spit them out. We know that we are a family and nobody can just take that away. All in all Washington High School is NUMBER ONE!!!

Only The Finest

VARSITY FOOTBALL

W.I.T.

When someone mentioned the 1990 Washington Huskies, size was something you definitely thought of. But it wasn't the way you might think. The average size of the offensive line was 6 foot 200 pounds. Starting at left tackle was Junior Mike Guerra, left guard Senior Donald Torres, center Senior Christian Mayer, right guard Senior Kevin Dunn, and right tackle Senior Keith Putt.

Washington High had an outstanding backfield. At receivers were Seniors Lloyd Zmeko and Tom Shane. Playing halfbacks were Seniors Jason Mitchell and Paul Wenger. Fullback was performed by Senior Ken Davis and Junior Jason Naintre. Leading the team to the N.C.S. playoffs was Senior quarterback Brandon Kelley.

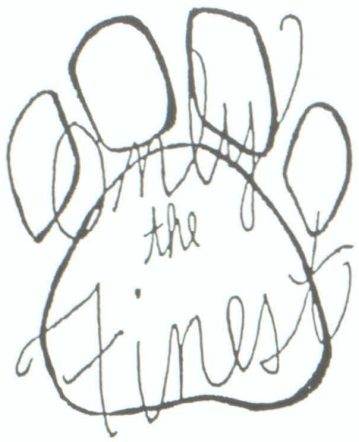
Running back Jason Mitchell plows thru tacklers for a big gain, in his biggest game, as Christian Mayer looks on.

J.V. FOOTBALL



W.I.T.

Its a quiet day, the slow buzz of cars, and chirps and hums by the birds and bees can put someone to sleep. Its so restful and serene. This is the way the Washington Husky J.V. football team likes it. Its a kind of day they like to ruin for other schools.

Washington's J.V. team has always generated a power. Their ever-advancing offense has frustrated more than one defense. It has even been rumored that some opposing quarterbacks have cried themselves to sleep the night before an evening with the hard hitting Husky defense.

This year's J.V. will have the talent and desire to make next year's Varsity a team you won't soon forget.

FROSH FOOTBALL

PUPS

As the school year began and the summer came to a close, a new breed had entered the Husky tradition. They are the 1990 Freshman Football team. These young pups rampaged through the M.V.A.L., wreaking havoc as they went. Their hard-hitting defense struck pain to many an offense, while their offense drove right through the heart of opposing defenses. Can coach Jim Ingram's superior coaching skills mold the untempered puppies? With the players' determination and Ingram's style you had better believe it!!

HAMMER TIME

Well where do I start? There's so much!! From the beginning it's a job. For two weeks you practice your hardest for try-outs! The day comes to show off your stuff. You're so nervous but suddenly it turns to excitement because you've been chosen to be a WHS cheerleader. To me that is a high honor. During this time on the Rally Squad, not only do you make many lasting friendships, but you lead your school in spirit. I only want the best for us all and I know we are capable of being #1. I love you all and I'll never forget you. Thanks for making my senior year the best!!

CROSS COUNTRY

ENDURE!

Driving along the streets of Fremont, you may sometimes spot Washington Cross Country runners sweating it out in ninety degree weather. What inspires them to be put through this torture? "Because we love to run," is the general response.

The Cross Country team, coached by Gil Lemmon, runs anywhere from 5 to 8 miles per practice, and in meets, runs a 2 to 3 mile course. Testing the endurance of the Huskies during the season are some fairly competitive schools, but the team managed to pull through.

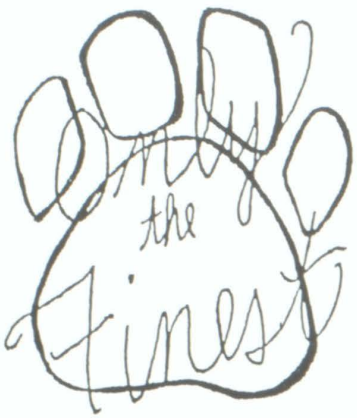
VOLLEYBALL



SPIKE IT!

There are really no words that can properly describe the WHS volleyball teams. Practicing in an area too small to really get the feel for some aspects of the game, never having a place to call home and being on the road five days a week, the players really pulled through for their school.

The girls really care about the game of volleyball. They made the best of the situation they were put in.

It has been a true pleasure to share the experience with these wonderful young ladies.

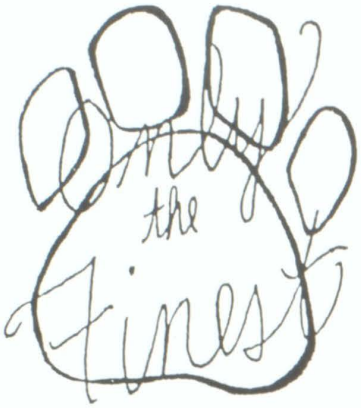
WATERPOLO



BUST YO LIP

That's what happens in the grueling sport of water polo. More violent than you'd think, water polo combines aspects of soccer, basketball, football, rugby, and (of course) swimming.

However, Washington's polo team is not an official MVAL sport- it's a club. The team must compete against those in other leagues.

Nevertheless, the team continues to play with a great fighting spirit, and to have a great time. Senior Andy Pi sums it up in the official team cheer.

"You are jiving and Washington's hip- mess with us we'll bust yo' lip!"

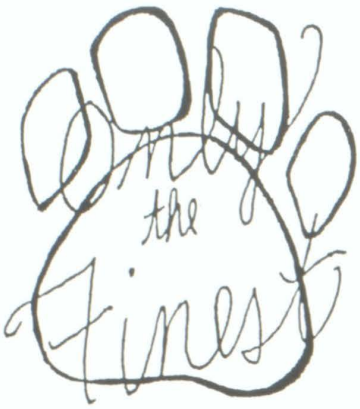
GYMNASTICS



PERFECT 10'S

This years varsity team, for the second year in a row, claimed the first place MVAL title. They came out this year with a very small team, but pulled themselves together to become the strongest team in the MVAL. The varsity team was led this year by Team Captain Colleen Keyser.

The junior varsity team also came out with a small team, but they pulled together to finish third in the MVAL. They all worked very hard trying to perfect the difficult new routines, and their perseverance paid off. The team was led by J.V. Team Captain Heather Snyder.

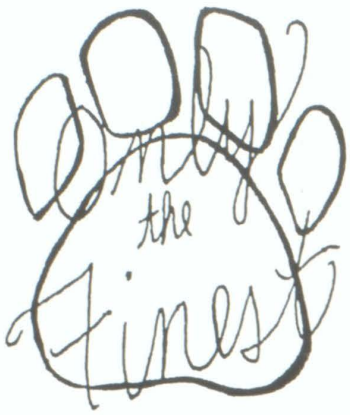
GIRLS TENNIS



HUSKY POWER!

After a slow start, the Husky varsity tennis team pulled through during the midseason with a 7-7 overall record.

This year's highlights included the unbeatable number one doubles team of Tanya Schvartzberg and Heather Severson. Senior, Alison Sato and junior, Jennifer Olson faced a challenge by stepping up to the number one and two single's spot, while seniors, Krisey Greene and Sonia Kimotsuki played the other two singles position. Also providing solid support in doubles were, seniors, Ann Truong, Eunice Lin, Pritika Rajasanshi and sophomore, Michelle Keller.

There are many up and coming J.V players who will keep the Huskies winning tradition alive.

VAR. BASKETBALL

Just Do It

This year, with seven returning players, the Huskies hope to improve on last years' 18-10 record and third place finish. With Seniors Dante Bonaparte, Jimmy Stevensen, Jermaine White, Aaron Schulz, Eric Christensen, Steve Donahue, and Scott Hess, the Huskies are a very experienced team. The best quality about Coach Guin Boggs' team this year is their depth. The Huskies have twelve players that can contribute to win a game.

J.V. BASKETBALL

"HOOPTIME"

This year Bassam Sabaugh, James Giacomazzi, and Sancho Martinez lead the J.V. boys basketball in points scored per game.

It has been an especially tough year for them since the loss of the North gym.

No need to worry because of course Huskies can overcome anything with spirit, pride, and teamwork. Teamwork is an essential part to having a good basketball team.

The J.V. team started the season undefeated against the top four teams in the Mission Valley Athletic League play. So with the skill and enthusiasm the J.V. team has we can go all the way! HUSKIE HOOPS!!!

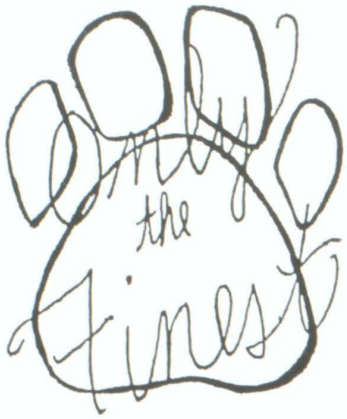
FROSH BASKETBALL



HUSKY HOOPS

With a two win, two loss record for the season so far, the Washington High School Freshman boys Basketball team coached by Mr. Mike Kenney, is off to a moderately good start. According to Freshman player Todd Arias, the team expects to finish off the season with a large winning streak. The team suffers from a great disadvantage, however. They lack height, but with their exceptional offense and defense, they hope to do well this season. No matter how the freshmen do, the school supports them every step of the way.

VAR. BASKETBALL

HUSKY HOOPS

The Girls Varsity Basketball team began its second season without a home gym. Instead, several area churches donated the use of their gyms so that the girls could have somewhere to practice. Despite the constant bus rides to and from practice and game sights, the team has managed to keep its attitude positive and spirit high.

The leadership and inspiration have been shared by the entire team. The title of captain changes from game to game, thus making the girls even closer together.

The Huskies are coached by Helen Paris, a former graduate of Washington High School who is proud of her alma matter and her girls.

J.V. BASKETBALL

GO HUSKIES

In the 1990-1991 Basketball Season, the Husky J.V. team consists of six returning sophomores and a hefty number of ten freshmen to round out the roster. The Husky Road Show continues on due to the loss of our North and South Gyms, practicing in six different facilities including our own South Gym, local churches, and rival schools' gyms.

According to head coach Marie Dean the kids have performed quite well despite the obstacles they have faced. The players' attitudes have been great. Husky Spirit and determination are behind this young team one hundred percent.

When someone mentions Washington High School, people are usually struck with fear or with pride. This year, the old school's soccer team struck fear in the opposing M.V.A.L. teams. This years Mutts rambled up and down the field every Wednesday and Friday. The crowd was always entertained by some fancy footwork, elegant passes, and powerful scores (or a brief brawl after the battle). As the grass grew longer and we got deeper in the season, the Huskies battled harder and harder and became well respected. The team was led by seniors Tom Shane, Rodney Kidd, Robert Indorf, Matt Nelson, Tony Gemignani, Jared Powell, and Sean Carmichael. These guys ended the year well and earned their place in Husky history. Juniors Matt and Joe Severson, Aaron Lafar, Darren Boddy, David Rosa and Mike Fauver have some big cleats to fill. But if Sophomore Jared Hattaway keeps up the excellent job at goalie they will be able to carry on the Husky tradition of winning. Good Job Huskies!

GIRLS SOCCER

TEAM SPIRIT

The 1991 girls Varsity Soccer team had a great season, which was lead by coach Odd Johansen and team captains Christine Fern and Jackie Degroat. With the help of many returning players, they really pulled together and became a strong team in the M.V.A.L. The girls had a lot of team spirit which showed in their outstanding performances during the season. Having a young team this year will be a great asset next year, adding depth and experience to an already talented team. Good luck next year Huskies!

WRESTLING

W.W.F.

The Washington wrestling team got off to a shaky start this season, as a result of the closing and reopening of the South Gym.

Coach Villapudua stated, "The lack of facilities severely affected the team. However, I feel we have a lot of potential for the team to grow when the new gym is erected."

When questioned about the upcoming season, he replied, "We have a lot of young talent. I expect to develop a lot of wrestlers. Two or three will do really well and possibly go to NCS."

Don Barao is the only returning senior. This year will definitely prove to be a trying one for the wrestling team. Go, Huskies!!

SOFTBALL

SWING BATTA!

Yes it's spring time again and our G.L.O.S. (gorgeous ladies of softball) are back with coach Mrs. Dean. The season has started off with rainy weather but I'm sure that our G.L.O.S. will prevail.

Mrs. Dean's goal is to develop a solid communication among the team members and to perfect the bunting game, and with pride and Husky power there is no doubt in my mind that that goal will be reached.

HOME RUN!

The homerun-hitting, base-stealing, ball-catching Huskies were back this year. With their bats aflame the WHS Huskies took the field. The balls were buzzing through the air like bees in a flower bed. The infield was a torn up mass of wasteland from the hauling Huskies base stealing.

The Husky defense was more intense than ever before. With Francis' lightning-like arm and Schultz's cannon, the opposing team was quickly shut down. The fielder's were like a big Black and Orange wall.

The year was tough and grinding and they earned everything they got. With coaching by Bill Lightfoot and Jess Jacinto the Husky ball club were contenders. The games were tough, the practices tougher. If Casey had what these guys had, there would have been joy in Mudville.

BOYS SWIMMING

DOGFISH!!!

And they're off! Washington's Varsity and Junior Varsity boys swim teams are well on their way to a successful season with a talented and experienced returning squad, and much new talent. By competing in a league of eight very competitive teams, the Washington dogfish will be tested to the limit.

In spite of the fact that the team hasn't been able to use the pool here at Washington, they are still training hard, with practices held at Glenmoor's Myer Pool.

With the amount of dedication and will to win that this team has, the dogfish are sure to come out on top!

GIRLS SWIMMING

TO YOUR MARK

When the Swimming season came around this year, the girls team again had a large turnout. With about 60 girls, they certainly had depth. They also had a lot of talent. As in other sports, the girls swimming team had to travel off of campus this year to practice. But, even so, they still worked very hard at what they did. Every week when a meet came around, the girls were prepared to swim hard, because they had rehearsed what to do often every day in practice. Swimming is a tiring sport, with almost no time to rest between laps, but with the commitment that these girls had, they all swam well.

TRACK AND FIELD

HUSKY TRACK

This years track team has gotten off to a very promising start. Tak Fudenna Stadium has been altered to satisfy our need for a proper track facility. There have been two new coaches added to the staff; Head coach Vernell Turner and Distance coach Yancey Young. We also have two returning coaches; Field coach Pete Reyes and Hurdle coach Jerome Beardon.

We have a grueling practice and meet schedule that keeps the team hard at work. We hope to place well this year in the MVAL. We also hope to gain quite a few medals and trophies at the invitationals; just as we did last year.

BOYS TENNIS

OH WOW!

Washington has been known for its prominent tennis team. This year, seven of nine Varsity members of the 1989 MVAL champion team have graduate. However, with Kent Elola playing Varsity number one, the team again has a plethora of potential. Keith Kato once again is the coach of boys' tennis, bringing his experience to our courts.

The Huskies' training curriculum is more intense than ever. Beginning with tortuous sprints, side stepping around the courts, and a gruesome two mile run.

For the Seniors it was just a sense of refreshing their memories. But for the Juniors, Powderpuff was a new experience.

In the scrimmage the Seniors showed their experience by defeating the Juniors 14-0.

Finally the night everyone hard waited for. The night they had practiced five long weeks for was about to begin. At halftime the score was 6-0 Juniors. The Seniors were within touchdown area several times but at the end of the night the score remained 6-0 Juniors.

POWDERPUFF CHEER

HUSKY SPIRIT

Have you ever seen a hairy-legged girl in a cheerleading uniform with breasts the size of watermelons, a tangled wig for hair, and a five o'clock shadow? If such a creature hasn't yet crossed your path, then you haven't met a Powder Puff cheerleader. Every year, when the girls start learning plays, the boys spend their free time creating the perfect half time entertainment for the game. A guy has to have guts to get up in front of a crowd dressed as a cheerleader and dance to "Ice, Ice Baby" They did a great job, though, and were rewarded with a standing ovation.

BADMINTON

SLAM IT!

For those of you who aren't aware of what the game of badminton is like, it's basically a very competitive sport that involves quick reflexes, game strategies and very strong arms and wrists! The game of badminton is similar to the game of tennis, however, instead of hitting a tennis ball you hit a birdie, (Not the kind of birdies that fly in the sky and chirp . . .) A badminton racquet is also much lighter and smaller than a tennis racquet.

All of the practices are held in the South Gym, which provides plenty of space for three courts. Actual matches, however, are held at Kennedy High School due the fact that the South Gym is carpeted and the court's dimensions do not meet the requirements.

Coach Arvin is the coach of the entire team, which consists of varsity singles and doubles players. Rick Lucero concentrates on his form.

HOLE IN ONE!

With all of the talent coming up, you'll be sure to hear more about our Washington High Golf Team during the upcoming years. This team, which is coached by Mike Hankin, only consists of ten players. The practices are held every Mondays and Wednesdays at the Parkway Golf Driving Range in Fremont. On Tuesdays and Thursdays practices are held at Sunol Valley Golf Course.

Last year the team came in third place during the annual MVAL tournament. However, this year they're shooting for first place. Rick Lucero was ranked third in the league last year. He and a couple of other competitors have a great chance of going to NCS.

Keith Putt hoping for a hole in one.

FRESHMEN Section

CLASS OF 1994

On the first day of school, the class of 1994 made its way through school. Everyone waiting to see this year's freshmen class and comment how small they are. To the freshmen class, it is a big step to high school and they must be proud of it. Slowly by slowly, they find their way around campus. In the beginning they always are the one to be teased about but it is a tradition. Everyone went through being a freshmen and now it is the class of 1994's turn. The class of 1994 finally get to show the rest of the school how much spirit puppies can have.

Now being united as a whole class, they start preparation for Spirit Week. Their dress-up days were Hippie Day, Opposite Sex Day, and Beach Bum Day which the freshmen showed great enthusiasm. They showed the rest of the school exactly how much Husky Spirit they really had. Their skit was entitled "The Spirit Factory" which was a mock version of "Willie Wonka and the Chocolate Factory". Their skit was very good, especially considering the fact that the Freshmen Class officers only had a couple of weeks to put the entire skit together. Unfortunately, the class of 1994 took last place. However, this is common so the freshmen class had no need to be disappointed.

Spirit Week was over for the freshmen and it was back to the books. The freshmen start to learn that high school isn't all fun when they probably took their first test. The freshmen haven't much to look forward to except for the Winter Ball, the only formal dance that the freshmen are able to attend. They also are now able to participate in many sports and clubs offered by Washington High School.

As the year starts to move by, this hard work is starting to pay off. As half of the year goes by, they start to look forward for Spring Break and the beginning of the summer. In the back of their minds, they are also thinking of next year when they will no longer be freshmen and that they will then be SOPHOMORES. They start to see all of the upper classmen's activities and they can't wait until it is their turn. By now, they want their freshmen year to come to an end which it will soon do for many.

Finally the year has come to an end. They start to receive their first time high school yearbooks. They can now look back over their freshmen year and look at all the good times and at the bad times. They say good bye to their teachers and to some of their friends. After finishing signing all of their friend's yearbook, they get to kick back and enjoy the last couple days of school. They now start to make plans for the summer by going places and doing things with their friends and looking forward to their driving license. But most important of all, they get to think back upon their freshmen year and all the memories they have created.

Just The Beginning

PUPPY PRIDE

Washington High School is a new and exciting place for all of us. We are all caught up with school work and all the new activities that are going on. Everyone always said that your high school years are the best of your life. I think Washington High School is a great place to spend those years. Now we are in high school and we are meeting new people and making new friends. Although we all still hold on to our old friends it is nice to experience new people and personalities. Now as we are getting older we should try to get involved as much as possible because school is what you make of it. Before you know it we will be graduating and the years will have flown by. So enjoy yourself and prepare yourself for the life that lies ahead of you.

SOPHOMORES

Section

CLASS OF 1993

Sophomores are often referred to as "tweeners". This is the year when you aren't sure who you are and where the heck you are going. Your adolescent years are a time when you are trying to make a move from childhood to adulthood. This struggle is most apparent your sophomore year. You have made it through your most difficult year of all, and over the summer you have matured, but you are still not at the point where you can enjoy the same activities as the upperclassmen. This is why the sophomore has gained the label of "tweener". During this inbetween period there is no sense in losing hope. This is the year when everything starts to come together. The huge gap between you and the seniors dwindles, and you start to feel as if you really belong.

The sophomore year is often thought of as a year where nothing exciting happens, but in the eyes of a sophomore this is a very monumental year. This is the year that they have the chance to acquire a very important piece of paper. This sacred piece of laminated paper is the drivers license. They now no longer have to call up mom or dad to pick them up from a football game or dance. The work and embarrassment required when trying to get your license has no pertinence to an anxious sophomore. Most don't even mind driving around in a car with a huge sign on top saying, "STUDENT DRIVER". Once the license is in their hand everyone they know wants a ride somewhere. If you were to ask any junior or senior they can tell you they remember cramming ten people in a car only meant to hold four. Having to spend half of your allowance on gas is very hard to get used to. I guess with the good also comes the bad.

For most students the first year of high school is not too difficult in terms of academics. Teachers understand that you are trying to get used to high school life, and that you are not ready to be bombarded with work. Once this year of adjustment is over they feel you have had sufficient time to ajust and now it is time to pour on the work. This is also the year that grades do start to count for more than just your parents satisfaction. With the intense competition to get into certain colleges every grade becomes critical. Most colleges start looking at the grades you make your sophomore year, so this is no time to sit around and do nothing. What you do in your first semester of this year can have an affect on where you will be two years from now.

Not only are sophomores faced with more school work, but now they have no excuse for a poor performance in Spirit Week. During your freshman year it didn't matter what you did, but now there is some pressure. The class of 1992 showed that they could handle the pressure and they finished Spirit Week in second place.

Throughout the year the sophomore class has matured and grown as a class. As the year comes to a close they will be ready to face their junior year, and they will be able to pass on the label of "tweener" to the next class.

On Our Way

SPIRIT OF 93

The spirit the Class of 93 had this year was really great. We had some problems getting started, but with everyone's help, we really pulled through. Without our gym, sponsoring the Winter Ball was difficult, but it turned out to be a great success. Even though we all had a great sophomore year, we are now looking forward to our junior year, and everything else that comes with being an upperclassman. The Class of 1993 has proved it can deal with any challenge that stands in the way. Hopefully next year our spirit will be even better.

SOPHOMORES

What is the one thing you want as a sophomore? For most, it's a driver's license. That little piece of paper gives you so much freedom, and makes you more independent. The best part is that you no longer have to depend on mom or dad to take you places. Another great part about being a sophomore is that you're not a freshman anymore, so upperclassmen don't pick on you as much. When asked, sophomores said the best activity of the year was Spirit Week, because unlike last year, they knew how everything worked. They sure did, and have a second place finish to show for it.

JUNIORS

Section 100

CLASS OF 1992

The class of 1992 has finally earned the title of upperclassmen. Their first day of school is one of authority and distinguishment. They are about to face probably their toughest year in high school. They do all they can to make it their best.

In September, they unite as a class and realize how their class spirit has boosted since their freshman year, when nobody screamed when they heard, "CLASS OF 1992". Now, they shout at the top of their lungs and say it with pride. They know they are almost at the top and they are ready for a year of challenges, opportunities, and most of all, fun.

As Spirit Week rolls around, the Juniors are prepared to challenge all of the classes with their spirit. The class puts together a skit and shows pride by dressing up for wacky days. They work their hardest in hopes of being number one.

Powderpuff brings an exciting opportunity for the girls to learn a bit more about football, and for the guys to learn a bit more about girls. While the players practice on the field, the powderpuff cheerleaders are practicing their makeup and routines. In the end, the class receives a feeling of satisfaction, despite who wins.

The Junior Prom gets everyone excited and involved. Girls are running around trying to find the perfect dress, while the guys are running around trying to get reservations and their tuxes. The Prom is an anticipated event that the Juniors wait for all year.

The S.A.T.'s bring a serious tone to Junior life. On top of all their other studies, they need to begin preparing themselves for the S.A.T. This isn't easy considering they already have two challenging classes: Chemistry and U.S. History.

As the end of the year approaches, the Juniors remember their fun year together and hope the coming year will be even better. They start thinking of their summer plans and vacations. Most of all, the Juniors look forward to being next year's SENIORS!

The Tradition Continues

JUNIOR PRIDE

There exists no obstacle that can prevent the spirit of the Class of '92 to shine through. Even when faced with the Quake of '89 and this year's sprinkler dilemma, we kept up our morale and strived to do our best. This year, we anticipated our long awaited Junior Prom and waited anxiously to test our strength in the Powderpuff Game. We faced the hardships of our studies, and worked hard to obtain our goals. As Juniors, we appreciate what we've achieved and hope for the best in our last year at Washington. Through times of glory and times of defeat, we always hold closely to us the pride in being a part of the Class of 1992!

FRIENDS

Friends are an important part of everyone's life. They pull you up when you're down, help you have fun, and are there for you when you need them. Here are some things that certain Juniors find valuable in their friendships:

Chris Fern- They act groovy, and are individualists, and don't bleach their hair.
Matt Garrity- I can rely on them no matter what.
Rosario Canotal- They take me for what I am.
John Gallager- They are inspiring and colorful individualistic people.

HUSKY SPIRIT

This year, Spirit Week was different than in the past. Since the North Gym could no longer be used, this created problems. However, the problem was solved, and the class skits were held at TAK Stadium. Here's what some Juniors thought about Spirit Week 1990:

Shateria Scrogginis- I liked how everyone dressed up and how we showed our spirit, in spite of not having a gym.

Jason Zinza- Spirit Week was truly a moving experience.

Katie Hadley- We did the best we could, but it was frustrating when the District turned the sprinklers on so that we couldn't use the field.

SENIORS

Section

SENIOR SPIRIT

As Seniors we now take the time to look back at the years that have gone quickly by. Is it possible that we are now Seniors preparing to embark on a whole new life. It seems like only yesterday that we were all huddled in small groups wondering not about the future, but if our hair looked good or if we would be able to get our combination lock to work. The thought of Senior year seemed incomprehensible. As I sit back and try to remember these four years at Washington I am filled with joy. I remember going to the first dance and hoping I didn't act dumb. I also look back and laugh when I think about our Spirit Week skit. Mony Mony is a song I can't forget. I've tried. Sophomore year was spent trying to get our precious drivers license. At that time life was over if you didn't get that all important piece of paper. Now many of us look back and laugh at how ridiculous we were. I'm sure all of you had the experience of trying to fit all ten of your friends into a car only meant for five. It might have been uncomfortable but you laughed the entire time.

The thoughts of college finally came to our attention Junior year. As the year began we were flooded with brochures about every college in existence. Spirit Week came and went with the Junior class placing third. This was a disappointment but I believe it really opened up everyone's eyes. We had to come together as a class. Our Junior year came to an end, and all we could think about was the wondrous Senior year that lay ahead. The summer was spent having class meetings. Often times the meetings became social gatherings, but those that came knew that was the part they liked best about them. Pizza Night was not a great success, but those that worked at it had a great time. Most of us didn't even mind getting dish pan hands! The teachers might have been on strike, but the Senior class was on the move. All dressed in our Senior shirts we invaded Denny's restaurant. The place that for many Seniors had become a regular hang out. Many Seniors would come in late on a Friday or Saturday night. The next exciting event was the Senior Picnic. Everyone had a great time in the water. I think for many of us the best part of the day was having time to sit and talk to everyone. I think this was the day the Class of 1991 really came together.

The most important day quickly arrived. After many hours of work and practice the Senior class skit was presented with the well deserved Spirit Trophy. That trophy belongs to all of you.

This year is going to be the best year ever, but it is also the saddest of all years. At the end of this school year we will all leave and embark on our own dreams. We will all be excited about where we are headed, but all sad to see what we are leaving behind. We must remember the great times we had together, and when we go we should take those memories with us. Make many wonderful memories this year, and remember the many friends you have made over the years. Always cherish them in your hearts. Don't forget our chant - "WE ARE FAMILY, GOT ALL MY SENIORS WITH ME." I wish all of you the best in everything you do.

WHAT LIES AHEAD?

As our Senior year of high school comes to an end, we are all faced with the decisions that will decide our future. Here is what lies ahead for some Seniors.

Sonia Kimotsuki: Drink lots of milk and grow to be six feet tall so at our ten year reunion, I can look down on everyone and laugh in their faces!

Adina Archuleta: Off to BYU, get married to a R.M., have kids, and die RICH!

Wendy Slater: Go to BYU, meet a R.M., get married to him, have 2 or 3 kids, and live in a Better Homes & Gardens house on the beach.

Eunice Lin: Live, laugh, travel, draw, and be happy.

IMPRESSIONS

Here are some people who have left great impressions on the Class of 1991. Kevin Dunn: Coach Ingram for all the pain and anguish he made us suffer. He made us a team! I'll never forget him or the 1990 football team.

Jon Fristad: Mrs. Robison- Her evil eye will always strike fear in lowly freshmen and mighty seniors alike.

Venetia Suchoski: I'll never forget Mr. Mangini. I mean who will be there to tease me about things like the time my car got towed away the first day I drove it to school?!

EMBARRASSED?

Everyone goes through the trauma of being embarrassed. For some people there is more of it involved than for others. Although all of us have experienced this inevitable circumstance, we asked only a few Seniors what their most embarrassing moment was.

Karen Skubal: My freshman year on the swim team they suited me and lifted me out of the water. To my surprise, the whole guys swim team was watching!

Rachel Ortiz: I was supposedly a DJ for Air Band and my turntable fell apart.

Rocky Pagan: My sophomore year, I walked in on three girl basketball players while they were changing in the small locker room in the North Gym.

Jeff Stoermer: We were having a bad day at football practice and I screwed up. Coach Ingram then yelled, and dragged me around the field by my face mask.

Sarah Haase: In Spanish class my freshman year, I fell asleep and when I woke up, I was surrounded by everyone from the next period. I was unexplainably late to my next class.

Yalda Azimzai: Running into a pole in my freshman year.

THE NEXT 100 YEARS . . .

Washington High School has been around longer than any of our parents, or grandparents for that matter! Many Special memories have been created at Washington over the years.

Here is what a couple of Washington's 100th Graduating Class would like to see happen at WHS in the future.

Suzy Stovall: I hope Washington can continue in excellence and the students can be proud to go to this great school.

Brad Shimizu: I hope that Washington will survive to serve the next ten generations as it did the Class of 1991!

Ken Miguel: That Washington's future classes will create as memorable moments in the new gym as we did in the "pit".

Spring McGriff: I hope that Washington students will continue to respect each other as individuals.

Heather Snyder: I hope Washington's portables can survive the next earthquake.

Yama Marifat: I hope they rebuild Washington High School as a whole, not one part at a time.

FRIENDS

We all go our separate ways after we graduate from high school, but where do you see your friends ten years after you have all graduated?

Russ Hedgpeth: Erik Parhiala will still be at Ohlone trying hard to get C's. Brian Rose will be a millionaire with no job!

Brent DeWitt: Jon Fristad with blond hair at the beach trying to draw.

Melanie Keith: I see Danielle taking care of many famous people's children, Annie working for a lawyer's corporation, and Vidal married to myself.

Bill Koo: Don't have any friends. My dog will be television.

Yalda Azimzai: Adita married, and still studying to become a doctor; Palwasha, not married, studying to become a doctor; and Suzan, still in Ohlone, working in McDonald's. Finally, Hila in the army and Shohib married to me.

DREAMDATE

We all secretly have some person that we would like to spend time with, whether we know them personally or not. Some Seniors reveal who their "dream date" would be and what they would do with this person on the date.

Amy Koucky: Jim Morrison. I would go out with him to dinner or to a cafe or something and just talk to him.

Rodney Kidd: Cindy Crawford. I would discuss with her the glamorous life she leads and treat her to a nice dinner. That's all- nothing kinky.

Cheryl Cavalcante: I'd spend the day with poet John Keats, eating chocolate croissants, and discussing the meaning of life.

Ed Fernandez: Nicole Eggert. I'd take her to a nice romantic candlelight dinner and go dancing. Maybe even watch a sunset before all this.

Vanessa McGautha: Michael Jordan. I'd have him deliver Coca-Cola Classic to me in my treehouse all day.

Carolyn Pestano: Sasha Mitchell! I would ride with him anywhere on the back of a motorcycle.

Michele Marchetti: Mel Gibson. I'd like to explore the Australian Outback.

Kerie Cartwright: The surfer on the C&R commercial. I'd let him teach me how to surf, of course!

OUR FUTURE . . .

The Class of 1991 is a special class, especially because we are the 100th Graduating Class of Washington High School. In ten years, we will all meet again at our ten-year reunion. Here is how some Seniors see themselves at that time.

Melissa Taylor: As a first grade teacher, married with two kids (a boy and a girl).

Ken Davis: As a family man, wife, two kids, probably starting my own business of stunt driving for movies.

Alison Sato: I'll be married with two children and force them to play tennis. My goal is to get tickets to watch the U.S. Open in New York.

Brandon Kelley: Just getting out of college with a Phd. and starting my residency at a hospital in San Diego. I'll be married, but won't have time for kids yet.

Eunice Lin: A designer on the way up, travelling on assignment, to Europe with husband and at least one toddler.

Venetia Suchoski: As a lawyer with a reputation like Melvin Belli's. Married, with at least 3 kids, more definitely along the way, and 2 big Husky Wolf-like dogs.

Colleen Keyser: A prominent nurse. Living in a nice house with a great husband and a couple of kids.

SENIOR

Despite the early morning wake up time, 177 seniors managed to make it to the traditional Senior Breakfast which was held at the Newark Pavilion. This year's theme was "A Down Home Country Breakfast" so the tables were covered with red & white checked tablecloths, western bandannas, and red and white balloon centerpieces. Seniors dined on such items as French toast, sausage, eggs, and milk.

The awarding of the Senior Favorites, the highlight of the breakfast, was announced by main M.C. Kevin Dunn with the help of several other announcers. Such songs as "Chariots of Fire" for the category Most Athletic and "Be True to Your School" for the category Most Spirited were played as the winners received their awards. The winners received gag gifts and little red baskets filled with candy to go with the theme.

The Senior Class Officers would like to thank all the students and P.T.S.A. mothers who helped to set up and serve the Breakfast. It was a great success and a memorable event for the Class of 1991.

Seniors enjoy food and conversation. Scott Carter, as several other seniors did, got into the western bandannas.

CENTURY

"Milk does a body good and ice cream is good for your smile," points out Heather Snyder.

"Alycia Vanderwerff, what's so funny? Come on, let us in on the joke."

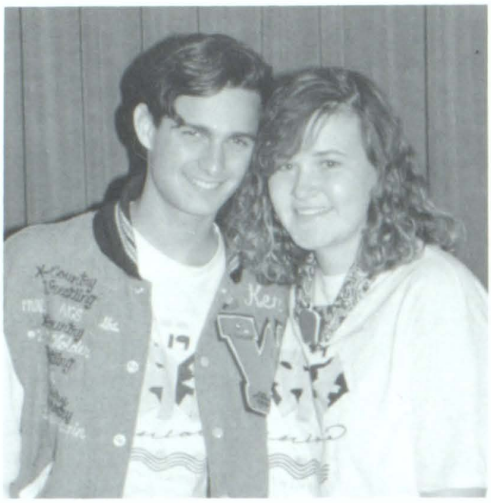
BREAKFAST

"Okay, now that I'm here, we can start the show," says M.C. Smilin' Kevin Dunn.

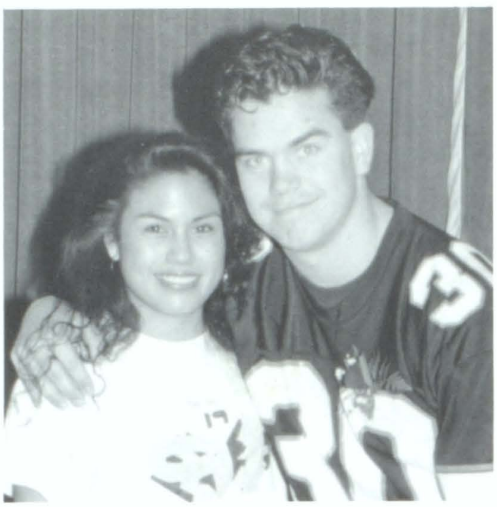
Our D.J. for the day Venetia Suchoski gets into the music she is playing for the awarding of the Senior Favorites.

George Lee tries to find that sausage he lost in his bandanna.

We know it's early Tom Shane, but try to stay awake. Christian can't be that boring.



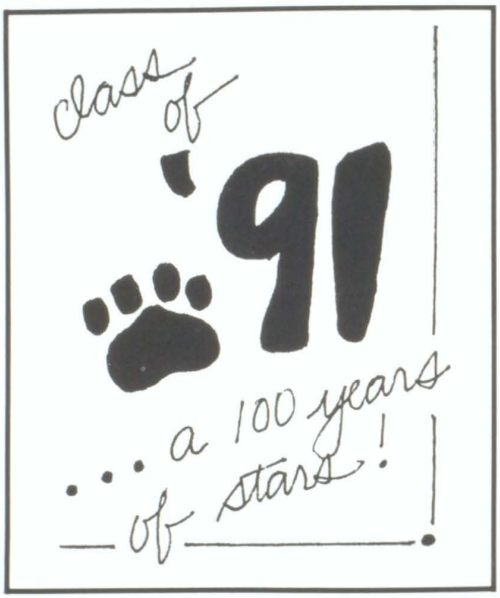
Most Spirited: Ken Miguel and Melissa Taylor

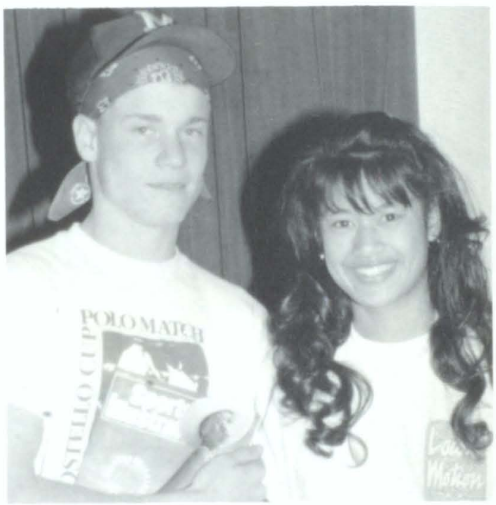


Best All Around: Carolyn Pestano and Ken Davis

Cutest Smile: Paul Wenger and Krisey Greene

Campus Clown: Tom Shane and Iris Simpson





Biggest Flirt: Rodney Kidd and Brandy Glock

Prettiest Eyes: Tanya Antle and Christian Mayer

Most Artistic: Jon Fristad and Cheryl Cavalcante

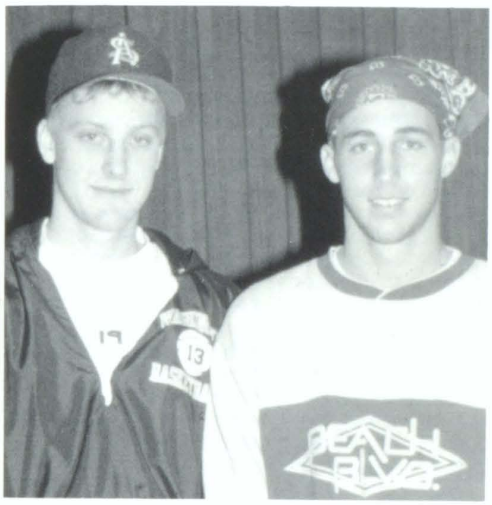
Most Likely to Talk Their Way Out of a Sticky Situation: Diana Escobedo and Mike Kean

FAVORITES

Most Athletic: Aaron Ingram and Stacy Peters

Most Likely to Succeed: Eric Christensen and Eunice Lin

Most Friendly: Jacklyn Hicks and Andy Pi



Best of Friends: Aaron Schulz and Steve Donahue

AND THE WINNERS ARE. . .

In January, ballots went out to all government and economic classes, to determine the top male and female seniors in fifteen unique categories. It has always been the tradition that the winners are announced at Senior Breakfast. Most Likely to Talk Their Way Out of a Sticky Situation, was a new addition to the categories. Congratulations to all the recipients! They were all well deserved!

Best of Friends: Alicia Rodriguez and Tina Cox

Best Dressed: Tony Gemignani and Chesna Blazick

Most Individual: Rachel Rogers and Rob Greene
